All set for launching ‘Sindh Economic Survey’

Karachi: Sindh Economic Survey 2009 – 2011 is scheduled to be launched at the Management Excellence Centre MEC, Institute of Business Management IoBM here on Thursday, February 16.

Syed Murad Ali Shah, Sindh Finance Minister would be the Chief Guest. This survey seeks to analyze developments in the provincial economy during 2009 – 2011. Such areas have been comprehensively covered as those pertaining to agriculture, manufacturing, construction, education, manpower, health, transport and communication. Sindh’s provincial fiscal balances and developments in the financial sector are also analyzed.

This is the second study on developments in Sindh being published by the MEC of the Institute of Business Management on the basis of a research grant from the Higher Education Commission HEC, Government of Pakistan. The first survey: Sindh Development Review 1972-2008 was presented in the Second International Conference on the Sindh economy held in Karachi 2010.

The two Surveys that IoBM has published on the economy of Sindh are based on attempts in developing a methodological framework for estimating time series data on key macro-economic variables. The Survey 2009–2011 reviews macro-economic and sector specific policies of provincial government and estimates Sindh’s gross provincial product and its principal components for the period under review.
