Special children as national role models

KARACHI

STAFF REPORT

They talked and walked, sang and danced, exhibited and performed their hearts out for Pakistan. It was a seeing is believing kind of an exemplary and exhilarating super show of special kids with God-gifted talents echoing awesomely from the Institute of Business Management (IoBM) platform for the nation at large during "Jashn-e-Baharan for Special Children 2017," reports IoBM Public Affairs Parvez Jamil.

He adds in all humility, "What men at the helm of affairs, men of letters and man in the street speak or hear about 'Unity, Faith and Discipline' was practised by our special kids." How tolerance, sympathy and fellow feeling are advocated by religious, political and social leaders was demonstrated in letter and in spirit by the special kids at this special show, he added.

When angel-like special kids sang, shares Jamil, "Lab pe aati hai dua, the national anthem, Is parcham ke saye talay, Dosti aisa nata and alike, the earth and the skies, the ambience and the audience, the young and the old sang with mesmerising message of love, peace, trust, harmony and patriotism for Pakistan, our land of purity, promise and potential."

It was a rare sight of mutual cheers blended with the amazing creativity of arts and crafts, skits and tableau, music and melodies with lessons in love, peace and harmony for the ailing society, he said. Special kids enjoyed every bit of gift packs, food items, jumping castle, candy floss, ice creams, cartoon characters, magic show and musical melodies organised by the all-embracing IoBM hosts, he revealed.

Among rare trendsetters for the nation, informs Jamil, "Were our own cute little special children, for example, from Umeed Special Academy (USA), AURA

Centre for Cerebral Palsy (CP), Absa Higher Secondary School for the Deaf, THE EFFORT Centre for Special Children, victorious and laurel-winning Pakistan Special Olympics children and of other schools."

IoBM Jashn-e-Baharaan for special kids depicted, as illustrated by Parvez Jamil, an aura of enchantment and enlightenment; charm, color and charisma; vim, vigor and vitality and told everyone how to make the most of life by shunning pains, agonies and heartbreaks, and start living anew with mutual cheers and happiness amid the blessings Allah.

IoBM students of public relations, event management and corporate communication were present with special children on this occasion, and coordinated this event amid the guidance of IoBM Public Affairs faculty and PR section, full support of IoBM management and technical, manual, hospitality and security assistance from IoBM staff.
